FOREVER REMEMBERED, YOU.

I still remember the first time I saw you, a stranger whom I shared no connection with,

we met again,

this time as strangers with a memory,

I still remember the first I talked to you,

you felt like home,

it felt like I have known you for a lifetime, every word coming from you felt like an unfamiliar sweet song,

How could a stranger be so special,

how could a stranger feel like my safe place, how could a stranger feel like home, how could a stranger feel like a piece of me I have been missing for a long time,

We turned to lovers, lovers who lost each other but now they have found a way back to each other, you became a melody that tied together the perfect song

I still remember smile on your face when I confessed my love to you,

I still remember our first hug,

It felt so warm,

I still remember the glow in your eyes when your lips collided with mine for the very first time,

Tears still roll down my eyes as I sit under the bright moonlight and the bright stars that reflect the beauty of your heart, as I ask myself,
how did you find me?
how could a person like me possibly find love?
how could a person like me find refuge in that pure soul of yours?

Every minute with you,
feels like a second,
a hour feels like a minute,
a day feels like a hour,

I will forever remember the sweet scent of your love,
It's like a field of beautiful sunflowers on a warm spring day, you are the storm that I would willingly walk into, your love is the flame that I would like to keep burning in my heart
I will forever remember

In my heart, a love so true a memory that time won't fade a smile in mind that is made

Your laughter, echoes a gentle breeze that whispers secrets
the sweetest of memories, in every moment I recall, the love that we shared, the love that stood tall and proud

In my dreams I see your lovely face, a vision of love that is irreplaceable forever in my thoughts, you will be a memory, a love that’s meant to be

Forever remembered, You.

WHEN TWO WORLDS COLLIDE

In the vast expanse of existence, two worlds

We lived, unaware, in our own separate heart

Different paths, different skies, different seas

Until the moment, our worlds collided with ease

Like two stars aligning, our hearts beat as on

In universe of chance, our love had just begun

The collision of our worlds, a cosmic dance so fine

A love that bridged the gap, a dance so intertwined

In the chaos of our meeting, our hearts beat as one

A place where love resided, where we were never alone

The worlds we left behind, they faded from sight

As our love became the universe, shining with all its might

Like tectonic plates shifting, our love rearranged

The landscape of our souls, a new terrain exchanged

The familiar became the unknown, the unknown became our guide

As our worlds collided, our love stood side by side

In the eye of the storm, we found a peaceful place

A love that calmed the waves,

The noise of the world outside, it faded into the night

As our love became the melody that shone with all its light

A love that’s woven from the thread of our hearts deepest mine

The worlds we brought with us, they merged into one

In the collision of our worlds, our love became the key

To unlock the secrets, of you and me.

WHISPERS OF THE HEART

In the stillness, where shadows play

The heart whispers secrets, of love's own way

A gentle murmur, that only echoes can hear

A language of emotions, that brings us near

To the depths of our souls, where the truth resides

The whispers of the heart, our deepest secrets divide

Fears, hopes, and dreams, all intertwined

A complex web, of emotions undefined

In the quiet hours, when darkness falls

The heart's whispers grow, and echo through the halls

Of our minds, where memories reside

A bittersweet reminder, of love and pride

The whispers of the heart, a symphony so fine

A melody of emotions, that ebb and flow like time

A rhythm that beats, with every breath we take

A reminder of life, and the love we make

In the whispers of the heart, we find our way

A collection of emotions, worth more than just gold

A precious gift, that we give and receive

A love that is pure, and a heart that truly believes.

THE POETRY OF EMOTION

Emotions swirl, like colors in the night
A scope of feelings, shifting with each light
Joy and sorrow, intertwined like threads
A complex tapestry, of the heart's deepest dreads

Fears dark whisper, a gentle summer breeze
That rustles leaves, and stirs trees
Hope's bright flame, a beacon in the dark Guiding us forward, like a shining spark

Love's warm touch, a gentle summer rain
That soothes the soul, and calms the pain
Grief's heavy weight, a burden we bear
A sorrow that's deep, and hard to share

Yet in the poetry of emotion, we find our voice
A language that is universal, a heartfelt choice
To express the depths, of our inner world
To share our feelings, and let our emotions unfurl

Like waves that crash, on the rocky shore
Our emotions ebb, and flow once more
Each one a story, of trials and tribulations
A chapter in our lives, a piece of our life

In the silence, we hear our hearts refrain
A melody of emotions, a symphony of pain

A chorus of joy, that echoes through our mind

A harmony of love, that will forever shine

The poetry of emotion, a reflection of our soul

A mirror of our hearts, a story to be told

Of love, loss, hope, fear

A journey through the depths, of what we hold dear

IF I DIE, REMEMBER THIS

The love we shared, the laughter and the bliss

The memories we made, the tears we've cried

The moments we lived, the dreams we've tried

Remember that smile that lit up my face

The way my eyes sparkled in warm, sunny place

Recall the sound of my voice, my gentle tone

The way I loved you, the way I called you home

If I die remember this:

The promises we made, the vows we've kissed

The whispers in the night, the secrets we have shared

The love that has grown, the hearts have bared

Don't grieve for me, don't shed a tear

Just live your life, and hold me dear

In your heart, my memory will stay

A love that's eternal, a bond that won't fade away.

SOUL TIES

Two hearts entwined, a bond so strong

A connection deep, where souls belong

In the threads of fate, our hearts did meet

A union formed, a love so sweet

Like tender vines, our souls did grow

Intertwined forever, in love's sweet glow

Through laughter and tears, we've stood as one

A bond that's unbroken, forever won

In the depths of my soul, I feel you near

A presence that remains constant, always clear

A whispered promise, a heartfelt vow

Forever and always our love will grow

Souls that bind, a love so true

A connection that transcends, me and you

In the fabric of time, our hearts are sewn

A bond that's eternal, forever known

Through life's ups and downs, we've stood as one

Together facing, every rising sun

Our love's a flame, that burns so bright

Guiding us forward, through the dark of night

In your eyes, my soul finds home

A place to rest, where I am never alone

With every beat, my heart sings your name

Forever intertwined, our love’s the same.

ECHOES OF LOVE AND LIFE

In the whispers of memories, I hear your voice

A gentle breeze that carries, the essence of our choice

To love, to live, and to cry

The echoes of moments, that we shared in the sky

The warmth of your touch, still lingers on my skin

A tender reminder, of the love that we've been in

The way you smiled, the way you looked at me

A love so pure, so true, it's etched in memory like the lines on a well-loved book

Life's journey twists and turns, like a winding road

We walk hand in hand, through the ebb and flow

We face the storms, and weather every test

Together, our love, forever finds its best

In the silence of night, I feel your heartbeat near

A soothing melody, that calms my every fear

Your love is my shelter, my guiding light

A beacon in darkness, that shines so bright

The echoes of laughter, still resonate in my mind

A joyful sound, that forever intertwined

With the memories, of our love's sweet refrain

A symphony of happiness, that remains

Through life's ups and downs, we've stood as one

Through every triumph, and every challenge won

Our love has grown, and forever will endure

A bond so strong, that time cannot obscure

In the echoes of love, I hear the whispers of fate

A destiny that brought us, to this sacred state

A love that’s pure, and true, and kind

A bond that’s unbreakable, forever entwined.

THE SILENT SCREAM OF THE HEART

In the depths of my soul, a scream echoes through

A soundless cry, that only silence can do

A heart's that breaking, a spirit that's worn

A weight that's crashing, a burden that's born

The silent scream, that rages within

A tempest of emotions, that cannot be tamed within

A storm that's brewing, a hurricane that's near

A heart that's shattering, a soul that's in fear

The words that I whisper, are lost in the air

A plea for solace, a cry for care

But the silence in deafening, the emptiness vast

A chasm gasping, a void that will last

The tears that I shed, are tears of despair

A grief that's overwhelming, a sorrow that's rare

The ache in my heart, is a pain that's so real

A longing for peace, a yearning to feel

The silent scream, that's trapped inside

A cry for help, a plea to be freed from this tide

A heart that's heavy, a spirit that's worn

A soul that is searching a place to be born

In the darkness of night, the scream gets loud

A cacophony of emotions, that's proud

The shadows dance, like demons in my mind

A haunting reminder, of the pain I have left behind

But still I hold on, to the pain in my heart

A glimmer of light, that sets me apart

A chance to heal, a chance to mend

A chance to find peace, and let my heart transcend

The silent scream, that echoes through my soul

Is a reminder of strength, that makes me whole

A testament of resilience, that I've found within

A heart that's beating, a spirit that's kin

HEARTBEATS AND MUSINGS

In the rhythm of heartbeats, I hear my soul

A symphony of emotions, that make me whole

The pulse of life, that beats within my chest

A reminder of moments, that I've loved and blessed

Musings of memories, that dance in my mind

A kaleidoscope of moments, that I've left behind

The joy of laughter, the pain of tears

The bittersweet nostalgia, that brings me to my fears

In the silence of night, I hear my heart speak

A whisper of wisdom, that only darkness can seek

The stars above twinkle, like diamonds in the sky

A celestial map, that guides me as I sigh

In the rhythm of heartbeats, I find my peace

A sense of calm, that the world cannot release

A stillness that soothes, my soul's deepest wounds

A balm that heals, the fractures that I've found.

THE LANGUAGE OF THE SOUL

In the depths of our being, a language resides
A tongue that speaks directly to the heart's tides
A dialect of emotions, a vocabulary of pain
A syntax of love, that echoes through our brain

This language of the soul, is spoken without sound
A universal dialect, that transcends all around
It's the whisper of our hearts, the beat of our drums
A rhythm that resonates, with every human hum

In this language we express, our deepest desires
Our greatest fears, our highest aspirations' fires
We speak of love and loss, of and of strife
Of all the human experiences, that shape our life

The language that's ancient, yet forever new
A tongue that's forever spoken, by hearts that are true
A language that connects, us all as one
A universal language, that's forever won

In this language, we find, our truest selves
Our deepest passions, our highest wealth
We find courage, to be who we are
To speak our truth, and to go far

The language of the soul, is a gift divine
A treasure that's precious, a language that's mine
It's the voice of our heart, the beat of our soul

A language that speaks, to the very core of our goal.
